HOW AN INDEPENDENT PAPER SEES IT

The following editorial clipped from the Providence, Rhode Island, Journal expresses so well its reasons for supporting the candidacy of Senator Harding after considering fully the records of the candidates of both leading parties that it was thought well to reprint here:

Immortal custom, since the days when newspapers began has placed upon them the burden of declaring their choice for a candidate for public office and giving their reason for their choice, vigorously or timidly as their policy may dictate.

The Journal has tried to the best of its ability to arrive at such a conclusion concerning Governor Cox and Senator Harding. One of these men will be called by the nation to serve it as President of the Republic for the next four years—a period of stress and trial, a period of reconstruction not only for our country but for the world—a period already darkened by the shadows of doubt, by the dangers of radicalism run wild, by grave and vital problems almost beyond the power of mortal man to foresee or analyze.

The Journal's choice for President is Warren G. Harding. It believes that judged from the standpoint of patriotism, statesmanship and deep and abiding love of the ideals that have made the Republic what it is, he is infinitely superior to Governor Cox. Senator Harding is a keen student of national problems who cannot be misled to barter his principles for any personal or party advantage. He is a man who begets confidence, who holds the respect and affection of all who come in contact with him.

Governor Cox is a shrewd, able and active politician, playing the game asleep and awake. He is the mouthpiece of "Charlie" Murphy and Tammany Hall and the bosom friend of "Tom" Taggart, whose pleasure resorts in Indiana have been for many years the meeting place of all the sordid and discredited elements among the Democratic leaders.

But, above and beyond these things, the election of Governor Cox would mean a continuation of the Wilson policies and the unspeakably vicious Wilson methods. It would give another lease of life to the regime that has sought to drive Americans like sheep, against their will and by despicable trickery, into the muddled waters of international intrigue.

If the American people want a continuation of Wilsonism and what Wilsonism means they will elect Governor Cox. If they want a revival of the spirit and soul of the Constitution, a rebirth of national honor and the elimination of the Absolute Monarchy of Error under which this country has suffered in shame for seven weary years, they will elect Senator Harding.

No party has an option on all the virtues or all the vices. President Wilson is not the Democratic party and has never been its real spokesman. And in Governor Cox we see not the standard bearer of a great party but the hope of Democratic office holders and a fetch-and-carry boy for Mr. Wilson. He has already publicly pledged his devoted and loyal support to the President's "ideals." He is thoroughly acceptable to Mr. Wilson—they both say so—and no man is acceptable to Mr. Wilson whom Mr. Wilson cannot handle like a blind and dumb automaton.

You will have to hand it to a Democratic politician who has the nerve to get up this year and talk about what the Democratic party is going to do for the people when everybody holds in fresh remembrance just what it has been doing to the people for the last three hundred and eighty-six weeks.

CALIFORNIA SLAPS THE LEAGUE

In the nomination of Samuel Shortridge by the Republicans of California for the office of United States Senator the members of that party take a direct slap at the Wilson league of nations for Shortridge has made his campaign on a platform of America first and announced his opposition to internationalism in the form of a league of nations or in any other form. The California campaign was one of the most bitter ever waged in that state with Shortridge finding himself opposed by the combined opposition of the British interests, the free trade interests, the internationalists interest, and the democratic interest. A British publication in San Francisco openly opposed Shortridge appealing to the Republicans of California to nominate anyone but him. Undoubtedly the British publication and the British government desired the nomination of William Kent on account of his free trade tendencies. Britain would like to see a free trade congress and one which would speedily ratify the league of nations and this desire doubtless inspired their opposition to Shortridge. The Wilson Democrats, watching the contest from their own party lines, no doubt, used whatever influence they had against the candidacy of Shortridge because the nomination of Kent would have left practically no choice to the voters of California on the question of the league of nations. The Wilson wing of the party could then have turned their attention away from the neighboring state for both the Democratic and Republican candidates would have been supporters of the one issue paramount in the minds of all Wilson Democrats. President Wilson knows well the tricks of the politician. That is shown in his appointment of a New Hampshire man to succeed Franklin D. Roosevelt as assistant secretary of the navy. In that case it was the desire of the president to throw all the influence of the administration into an attempt to defeat, by interparty methods well known in politics, a Republican senator who has been one of the foremost opponents of the league within the senate. But the Republicans of California refused to be lead astray by the various factions allied against Shortridge and he has apparently won the nomination, making his fight on a platform of red-blooded Americanism, opposition to internationalism, and protection for American industries.

Washoe County will have the Republican nomination for the Senate having all five candidates. It has one of the two Republican Congressional nomination. This ought to satisfy but it seems Washoe wants two of the three Presidential Electors. There is such a thing as being a political hog. It would be a good idea for the Republicans in other counties to give their big sister a political spanking so far as Electors are concerned.
